Cleveland Attorney Is Arrested Today In Connection With What Federal Officers Say Is a Nation-Wide Conspiracy

CLAIM MEMBER OF A GANG

Operating In New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, St. Louis, And Other Cities — Lawyer Charged With Selling 840 Bogus Stamps

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 15.— J. V. Zottarelli, local attorney, was arrested today by United States secret service men in connection with what federal officers said was a nation-wide $5,000,000 counterfeit conspiracy.

The warrant on which he was arrested charged him with possession, publishing and passing counterfeit United States securities — $5 War Savings stamps dated 1919. He also is charged with selling 840 bogus stamps of $4,200 face value.

Detective Harper said the attorney was a member of a gang of counterfeiters which operated in New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, St. Louis, and other cities.

NATURAL WONDERS 80 MILES FROM THE CITY OF PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Nov. 15—Pennsylvanians go westward thousands of miles in search of natural wonders, unaware that 80 miles from Pittsburgh they can find a forest that contains trees that can only be equalled in the giant woods of the Pacific coast.

Cook Forest, [illegible] at the junction of Clarion, Jefferson and Juniata counties is on the way to become one of the nature meccas of the United States, taking rank with Yellowstone Park and other outdoor wonders which draw tourists westward every year.

Eight thousand two hundred acres in extent, Cook Forest contains the largest virgin white pine in the east. This means that within the boundaries of Cook Forest is the largest amount of white pine found anywhere for the pine of the south and the Pacific coast are of different species.

There are many trees in this forest that are 400 years old rising to a height of 180 feet. A group of public spirited men have banded themselves together into a syndicate for the purpose of buying the forest and turning it over to the state as a memorial. The syndicate which is known as the Cook Forest Association has set $700,000 as its goal.

Roll Call Drive Is On; Give

The Red Cross drive as reflects Charleroi will formally start tomorrow. The Roll Call workers will cover the borough and adjoining districts starting at 2 o'clock. Indications are that people will respond heartily to the solicitations of the workers, commensurate with the importance of the drive.

The Chamber of Commerce rooms will be kept open to give the workers reports, after covering their districts.

The American Red Cross solicits again your membership for 1925. The local Red Cross Chapter needs the support of all the people. In the name of humanity, give.

PUNCH SYSTEM FOR VIOLATORS

Motor vehicle drivers who are stopped by members of the Highway Motor Patrol for violations of the motor vehicle laws are to have their operators' license punched that in case of another violation the officer may know it is the second offense ,officials of the Department of Highways announced. Under the system the duplicate cards in the department office will be punched the same as the original, to make a complete check, the officials said.

The character mark on the punch of commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the patrol is a diamond while the character used by privates is a spade.

Punch marks in the various positions indicate the driver was warned as to violations of the various infractions of the laws.

In announcing the system the bulletin to members of the patrol said: "When a motorist has been warned as to some violation of our motor law and his operator's card has been marked accordingly, it is felt that a subsequent violation of the same nature noted by any patrolman would warrant prosecution since the operator's card will bear a punch mark indicating that the motorist has been warned previously of the infraction of our law. In each instance the card shall be punched as set forth."

The bulletin also said that patrolmen when stopping a car and observing a punch mark indicating a previous warning for the same violation has two alternatives; either to punch the card again and report to the central office else notify the motorist to appear before an alderman or justice of the peace.

LOOKING FOR MISSING BOYS

Charleroi police are looking for Charels Peters, 922 Shady avenue, aged 17 years, and John Harvey Brown, also aged about 17 years, who resides near Canonsburg, who, it is alleged, ran away from Morganza.

The Brown lad is colored. Charles Peters is wellknown here, and it is said, has not conducted himself seemingly, hence his being taken to Morganza.

Chief of Police James A. Murphy said this morning that he and his officers made diligent search for the boys yesterday, but their efforts were barren of results. It is not known whether they came to Charleroi, or were headed in this direction.

Tag Day Benefit Russian Orthodox St. John the Baptist Church

On Saturday, Nov. 15, the Russian Orthodox Church will hold a Tag day in Charleroi and the girls and women of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary Society will solicit funds.

We appeal to the members of the community to give what they can to aid the church. No doubt the town remembers our misfortune, in losing our former church, which was destroyed by fire the latter part of December 1923.

The basement of our new church, which is built near the site of the former one, is completed and on Thanksgiving day the cornerstone will be blest. In the spring the church will be completed. The manufacturing plants and mines will have women and girls soliciting money. 136t3*

BIG CROWD ATTENDS THE GREAT BAZAAR

The Dugout held another record breaking crowd last night at the Bazaar being staged there this week under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 22. The second card party of the week was [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. Russell Test, Mrs. Rose Gillette, Mrs. E. C. Robertson, Mrs. Walter Urben, Pete Lee, John Jenkins and Miss Irwin.

The musical program was very pleasing. Mrs. A. G. Lewis, accompanied on the piano by Miss Alice Peach, sang several selections very beautifully. Charles Pollock sang two numbers in his usual pleasing manner. Miss Irene Pardiny played his accompaniment. Another feature of the program was the violin solos played by Guy Michener, the piano accompaniments being played by his sister, Miss Audrey Michener.

"Madame Ireno," the palmist, was kept very busy with anxious folk in line waiting their turn to hear their future. A great number were turned away and thus the madame will be compelled to return this evening to take care of her patrons. Another popular attraction of the evening was the coffee and sandwich booth.

The great attraction for today will be the bake sale in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Pollock. This promises to draw a large crowd.

Another feature about last night's activities was the presence of a large number of members of the Monongahela Legion Auxiliary.

Last Night's Banquet At the Washington Avenue Presbyterian Church Is Attended By Fathers and Sons to Number of 175

S. D. R. HILL, TOASTMASTER

Speakers, Rev. Frank S. Montgomery, Pastor of the Church, Prof. J. L. Roberts, Robert Ingland, And the Rev. Dr. W. P. McConkey of Washington

Last night's banquet at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church attested that, in Charleroi and this community, at least, the majesty of the "commonwealth" rests with the Fathers and the Sons. To the number of 175, they congregated in the spacious dining room of the church edifice in Fifth street and Washington avenue, and while the affair was ostensibly a banquet, provided as only the competent ladies of this church society can, the function was in reality, a "feast of reason and flow of soul;" where Father and Son exchanged confidences and pleasantries; where Father lived anew the halcyon days when he too enjoyed a life in the spirit and enthusiasm of the juvenile.

Postmaster S. D. R. Hill fulfilled with his usual acumen, the duties incumbent of toastmaster, and by his witticisms in story, enlivened and made doubly interesting an occasion that was fraught with all the amenities of former functions of this character.

After the concourse sang "America," invocation was pronounced by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Frank S. Montgomery. This was followed by "Toast by a Father," given by Prof. J. L. Roberts. Frank Joseph then rendered a solo, and responded to an encore. This in turn was followed by special music, in charge of William Mollenauer, with Johnny Jenkins at the piano. Robert Ingland then gave the "Toast by a Son." Toastmaster Hill introduced the Rev. Montgomery, who said among other things that he felt honored at the splendid representation of fathers and sons present, and was certain that the banquet, a yearly affair, would be prolific of the good hoped for. After another song, Toastmaster Hill introduced the Rev. Dr. W. P. McConkey, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Washington, who gave an inspiring address, in which he told of the relations which should exist between Father and Son; of the respect and love which each should feel for the other; the importance of their becoming acquainted, to strengthen the filial ties which is incumb-

Drivers Of Cars Killing Folk Freed

Inquests into two accidents in which persons struck by automobiles succumbed to their injuries, were conducted in Washington yesterday by Coroner William Greenlee, the driver in each case being freed of blame.

One was a rehearsing in connection with the death of Donald Edgar Lobfinger, aged four, of Pancake, who was killed when hit by an automobile driven by Miss Ruth Myers. The case was reopened by request of the parents of the child, account of the conflicting testimony. The case was gone into in considerable detail, and after hearing the version of the various witnesses, Miss Myers was again exonerated.

The other inquest was that of the death of Frank S. McWreath, Jr., two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan B. McWreath, who was killed when run over by a machine driven by Dr. J. R. Maxwell, who had been called to the McWreath home to attend to the mother of Mr. McWreath, who had been ill. It was shown that the mishap was purely accidental.

Want To Curtail "Juice" In Coal Mining

Curtailment of the use of electricity as a "needless and dangerous" hazard of coal mining will be asked from the next legislature ,as the result of a conference held in Harrisburg on Wednesday of the executive boards of the five Pennsylvania districts of the United Mine Workers of America.

A committee of 15 three from each district, was agreed upon to draft suitable legislation for the miners and submit the entire program at a general conference when the legislature convenes in January.

About 50 representatives of Districts 1, 2, 5, 7 and 9 of the mine workers' union were in Harrisburg to attend a general meeting of labor officials to consider a legislative program and such special legislation as may be necessary at this time. Thomas Kennedy, president of District No. 7, declared the electrical hazard the most important subject at this time to be dealt with in remedial legislation next session. "The greater use of electricity in place of steam has made it necessary to call a halt somewhere. Auxiliary systems are needed in case the power fails. We should not wait for some great calamity before getting after this danger and we feel that a new law must be drafter to prevent further development of the hazard," Kennedy declared.

No shots were fired. The bandits escaped in a waiting automobile.

Jury Taking Its Time Reaching Verdict In Johnson Case

The jury impanelled to try Herman Johnson, colored, of Monessen, for the murder of Lela Warfield, also colored, at a baseball game near Donora last June, had not agreed on a verdict at a late hour last night. The case went to the body at 3:30 in the afternoon. The commonwealth asked for a first degree verdict.

Johnson's defense was that the shooting of the woman was accidental. The shooting occurred after the close of a baseball game at Americo park, between the Donora and the Monongahela teams. Johnson's home is in Monessen, and he had gone to the game with Arthur Neil, a nephew of the woman he presumably shot.

At the time of the shooting, the Mail was informed that Johnson shot the Warfield woman, a young lady, on the outside of the ball park; that Miss Warfield was in the company of other colored women; that he asked Miss Warfield to get into an automobile that he was driving for a ride, and on her refusal, shot her. However, according to the Observer, none of this testimony was adduced at the trial.

Johnson's allegation is that during a scuffle with George Densley, colored, who had accompanied Miss Warfield to the game, the gun was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking Miss Warfield, inflicting the wound, from which she is said to have died on July 4. Johnson avers he had no ill will toward Miss Warfield that he had kept company with her for a year, that he did not know she was going to the game that day, had not seen or talked to her that day until he met her after the game, with Densley.

He testified that after leaving the baseball park and when just outside he met Miss Warfield and Densley and spoke to her, but not to Densley, as Densley and he had not been good friends for some time. Densley, he said, did not speak to him. He said he asked Miss Warfield if he could have a few words with her and to that question, he said Densley replied that if he wanted to talk to any one to talk to him, Densley. More words passed and Miss Warfield, he said, then approached him, the defendant, and they started walking along the car line together. It was then, he said, Densley came up behind him, grasped his arms, pinioned them to his body, and they got into a scuffle. Densley changed his hold and in doing so grabbed the butt of a revolver that had been taken out of Johnson's pocket. It was during this scuffle the gun went off and Miss Warfield was shot.

Johnson denied he had threatened Miss Warfield ,or had said he was going to "send her to h——."

COOLIDGE AND JEFFERSON.

It is reported that President Coolidge intends to go back to the practice of Thomas Jefferson, in the matter of sending his message instead of appearing before Congress in person. Jefferson departed from the practice of Washington and John Adams in this particular and his example was followed by all his successors, during more than a century, until Wilson went in person to read his message, as did Washington and Adams. Harding followed Wilson, but Coolidge, it is now said, will return to the long-first democratic president. When on the eve of the Seventh Congress, Jefferson notified the Speaker that he would not appear in person, and would send his thoughts in writing instead, he was accused of staying in his palace like a contemptuous Eastern potentate, which was obviously absurd. His real reason was that speechmaking was not his forte, he well knew that he could express himself better and be more effective with his pen. No doubt Mr. Coolidge's reasons are similar, for he has himself confessed to his dislike of the ordeal of the platform.

It is popularly supposed in America that ability to speak clearly and eloquently is a prime qualification without which no public man can hope to make headway, but the great success of Jefferson as a statesman and the recent triumph of Mr. Coolidge show that this general rule permits of remarkable and distinguished exceptions. Ordinarily it is desirable, but plainly it is not in all cases necessary for a successful public official to be a good speaker.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Harry Fay Is To Meet Stribling---M'Tigue Match Is Pending

Harry Fay, the light heavyweight barkler, formerly of Charleroi and this district but now making his headquarters in Louisville, is keeping up his march to the front and fattening his bank roll under the clever managership of Charley Jones by continuing to get matches with some of the most prominent fighters in the game. That Fay is making good wherever he appears and is a big card throughout the South is shown by the demand for his services when a worthy opponent is sought for any of the tournaments. The Belgian battler is set for matches with two of the most widely known men in the glove sport one of them a world's champion, as Manager Jones has signed for him to meet Young Stribling in Atlanta Ga., on the evening of Thanksgiving Day and has closed Fay's end of a proposed match with Mike McTigue, worlds light heavyweight champion in Louisville, December 8. Manager Jones tells of the big matches in the following letter from Louisville:

"I have matched Harry Fay to box Young Stribling 12 rounds to a decision in Atlanta, Ga., November 27 (Thanksgiving Day night.)) The Auburn University football team plays Georgia Tech in Atlanta Thanksgiving Day and they expect 30,000 persons from all parts of the South at the game. So the Atlanta promoters expect the Fay-Stribling bout to draw from 12,000 to 15,000. Fay recently made a big hit in Atlanta in a sensational bout with Jack Reddick and right after the Reddick bout all the Atlanta fans wanted to see Harry box Stribling. Harry may also box Mike McTigue 12 rounds at the Armory in Louisville December 8. McTigue has accepted terms and the only thing holding up this match is the referee question. McTigue wants to bring his own referee but the Kentucky boxing commission says that a Kentucky referee must officiate. The commission has submitted Tot Wilkinson Marvin Hart and Lou Bauman as acceptable referee. As far as Harry and I are concerned we don't care who referees. We hope to close this match soon."

MAY BE SLIGHT LETUP IN THE STOCK MARKET

New York, Nov. 15.—The tenth day of the post-election boom in the stock market opened today with indications of a slight let-up in the hectic pace of the past eight days, during which an average of more than 2,000,000 shares a day were traded in on the New York stock exchange.

While the same high pressure of trading continued yesterday, establishing new high records in 51 representative stocks, there was a slight recession in the total turnover, with 1,838,930 shares traded in as compared with 2,185,113 on the previous day.

According to brokers' records the public is selling rather than buying. The buying is being done by the big operators of the street who evidently expect prices to go higher before the present boom ends.

There was marked irregularity in the trading yesterday for the first time since the feverish speculation started. The stock market closed with an advance of more than half a point for the average of stocks with both railroad and industrial issues showing gains of .52 and .53 respectively.

In the grain market wheat declined more than two cents and corn and rye were also under pressure. Cotton advanced sharply about $2.50 a bale and in the foreign exchange market, sterling at $4.64 reached its highest since May, 1923.

MANSON, UNAWARE OF BABY'S DEATH IS A VICTOR

Unaware of the fact that his infant son had died a half hour before he went on to fight Don Carson, of Indianapolis, last night in the feature of the reopening of the boxing season in Homestead, Hughey Manson won his way to a decisive victory before being told of the sad news. Manson's child, which had been ill for the worse last night after the fighter had started for the arena and although the death was known shortly before the bout went on, Manson was not apprised of it. After having received the judge's decision, Manson was informed of the death and broke down in tears in the ring where a few minutes before he had been taking solid swings on the chin without any sign of injury.

There was no intent on the part of the promoters to go through with the show when the news beame known, but close friends and relatives of Manson urged that the show be gone through with before the fighter could be notified of the bereavement. It was Manson's first child.

Making his hometown debut as a "pro" boxer, Hughey pitted against the more experienced Carson, gave a good account of himself and proved strong enough to gain the edge in the last three rounds, during two of which he had the Indianapolis flyweight groggy from solid swats to the head and face.

HISTORIC RING NOW IN A MUSEUM

Paris, Nov. 15.—Houdon Museum, at Versailles, has been enriched by a historical ring, the gift of Georges Clemenceau. It is a simple gold monogram ring and originally belonged to Jules Favre. When Favre and Bismark met on January 28, 1871, to sign an armistice after the Franco-German war, it was necessary that proper seals be attached to the document. They were at Versailles, and the proper French seals were in Paris. Bismark objected to the delay necessary to get the seals, so Favre used this ring to stamp the documents.

Exactly forty-eight years and five months later M. Clemenceau, prime minister of France and president of the peace conference wore this ring when he entered the Gallery of Mirrors in Versailles to tell the Germans where to sign. The ring will be preserved with a sacred collection, which includes the pen that signed the treaty for France and the inkstand used on that historical occasion.

TRIPLE LINK CHAMPS FETED AT FINLEYVILLE

Spoils of war were divided when Gastonville's Triple Link champions of the 1924 baseball season were feted last night in Finleyville by 100 or more followers of the club.

Each member of the team was presented with either a gold minature baseball, the gift of Honus Wagner, or a neat, gold medal given by the Pittsburgh Post.

Joe Smith, Gastonville's ace backstop, who has been hobbling around on crutches from a fractured leg during the baseball season, dropped his crutches yesterday just in time to be presented with the Spalding trophy which represented a uniformed catcher crouched, ready to receive a supposedly fast one.

REPORTS OF FASCIST FEARS ARE OVERDONE

Rome, November 15.—Reports of Fascist fears of a revolutionary movement appear to have been greatly exaggerated abroad.

There is nation-wide unrest, however, and the War Volunteers Association today sent broadcast a message to the country, urging calm.

It is useless to discuss who is to blame for the unrest, the organization declared.

"The blame is to be found exclusively in weakened faith in spiritual unity, which is the only force of a civilized people," the manifesto says.

An Ohio woman lately received much mention in the papers because she had baked a pie for her husband every day for twenty years. Isn't there anything some people won't do to get publicity?

DONORA WINS IN CLOSE GAME WITH MONONGAHELA

Recovering the ball on a fumble on the Monongahela 20-yard line, Donora, in two plays, went across for a touchdown, which decided the outcome of the annual struggle between the two Monongahela valley rivals at Donora yesterday afternoon. The final score was 7 to 0. A large crowd witnessed the game. Gregory's pass back to Smith was low and the latter fumbled the ball. A Donora lineman was through upon him and recovered. McAlpine, Donora's backfield ace, carried the ball twice in succession and on the second play crossed the Monongahela line.

Donora had the weight advantage, and as the field was wet and slippery from Thursday night's rain, seemed to better advantage than its lighter opponents. The Monongahela defense was rugged throughout and held firmly on the few occasions that Donora threatened to score. Monongahela was inside the Donora 30-yard line once, but could not shatter the defense and was forced to relinquish the ball. Lineup:

LACK OF DEFENCE TACTICS DEPRIVES NEGRO OF VERDICT

Young Marullo, former Brooklyn boy, who now calls New Orleans his home town, won rather an unimpressive victory over Battling Siki the singular Senegalese, in a 12-round bout at Madison Square Garden, New York, last night.

The bout was one of two mixed matches, the first that have been held in Madison Square Garden in many months. In the other affair the colored race came off best, Allentown Joe Gans administering a neat lacing to the veteran Augie Ratner. Siki, who had been substituted for Paul Berlenbach at the last moment, put up a good exhibition and fooled some of the experts who thought he would be an easy mark for the southerner. Siki was in fine physical shape and in some rounds had the better of the going.

PRINCE OF WALES IS CONTRIBUTOR AGAINST DISEASE

Boston, Mass., Nov. 15. — One of the facts interesting to sporting people revealed during the recent visit of the Prince of Wales to Boston's North Shore near here was that England's sporting heir to the throne is one of the contributors to the world-wide campaign against distemper, the deadly disease which is dogdom's greatest enemy. H. R. H., according to Charles H. Tyler, who is the director of the American Distemper committee, has made a generous contribution to the work in England and King George, his father, has given a very substantial sum. Both contributions, proving as they do that the royal sportsmen understand and are in sympathy with the movement in England, have helped the cause greatly here. Mr. Tyler, whose offices in the Ames building here are the national headquarters for the work in this country, declares that here also the interest is keen among dog people.

Bayard Tuckermon, Jr., who was host to the Prince of Wales during his recent visit here, is President of the Eastern Dog Club of Boston, which has contributed very substantially to the American Distemper fund, and Mr. Tuckerman has been a generous contributor as well.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. Lenner takes this means of thanking Rev. John R. Burson of Clarksville, Pa., for his kind remembrance of her during the Old Folks Day at the Presbyterian church of Clarksville. Mrs. Lenner acknowledges with thanks receipt of the book, flower and ribbon which he so kindly sent her. 137t1p Mrs. Kate Lenner.

The Personal Side

William M. Brown of Crafton has returned to his home after a few days business trip in Charleroi.

Miss Myra Johns High School teacher, left yesterday afternoon to spend the week end at her home in Pittsburgh.

Miss Jeannette C. Rosenbloom of Fallowfield avenue left this morning for Pittsburgh, where she will spend the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dawson of Lincoln avenue, accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Hancock and Miss Rita Smith of Centerville spent Thursday visiting in Pittsburgh.

Friends of Miss Mildred Burd will be glad to hear that she is improving after having been confined to her home in McKean avenue the past week suffering from an attack of appendicitis.

William Caldwell, Addison Bosing-[illegible], Pittsburgh, and Miss Cecelia Watkins of Beechview, Pittsburgh, are guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. William M. Long of Washington avenue over the week end.

Walter S. Cook of Washington avenue arrived home this afternoon from Cleveland, Ohio, where for the past two weeks he has been a patient in the Cleveland Clinic hospital of that place. Mr. Cook underwent a serious operation and is returning home very much improved. Mrs. Cook who has also been in Cleveland during her husband's illness ,accompanied him home.

MRS. CARROLL BEING HELD IN KATZ DEATH

Los Angeles, Nov. 15—Mrs. Dorothy Carroll, "the beautiful blonde," was still being held by police today for further questioning into the murder of Harry I. Katz, millionaire diamond broker who maintained a "love nest" at his luxurious bachelor apartment at the door of which he was slain Monday night.

Mrs. Carroll told police she and Katz had been lovers at the time of his death, when police detained her following her appearance at the coroner's inquest yesterday.

While police know that Mrs. Carroll was but one of many women on whom Katz showered his affections, roll may have slain Katz through theory that her husband Chase Carroll may hav slain Katz through jealousy.

Carroll and the man with whom he lived, Earl H. Bridges, are being held by police following conflicting stories they told of Carroll's whereabouts the night of the murder.

A gun was found in their room which police believe to be the same calibre as the one used in killing Katz. Microscopic examination of the bullet which killed Katz was ordered by Deputy District Attorney Davis in an attempt to determine if the bullet was fired from the same calibre gun as found in Carroll's room.

Carroll was living apart from his wife who had filed suit for divorce.

In the meantime search for "Stan the Bouncer" and "Rose the Wop" led to San Jose, Cal. The couple are known to have attempted blackmail on Katz after they had framed a "badger game" on him and police think they may know something about the shooting.

MOTORISTS MUST DRIVE ON THE RIGHT HAND SIDE

Harrisburg, Nov. 15—Secretary of Highways Paul D. Wright today warned motorists that observance of the motor vehicle law with respect to driving on th right hand side of the road ing on the right hand side of the road men will be called upon to enforce this provision.

The "road hog" is the particular offender at whom the highway chief is aiming this "gentle reminder." Driving or pausing in the center of the road is prohibited by law where free passage of other vehicles is prevented.

"It is particularly important that operators of heavy vehicles remain as far to the right of the pavement as possible," said Wright. "There is no appreciable crown on our modern roads. The driver has no more ease driving in the center than he has on the sides."

It would appear from this statement that certain truck drivers have become offenders of the law quoted by the highway department head in his warning.

NOTICE.

Owing to our shortness of second-hand automobiles, we would like to have twenty or thirty 1920 or 1921 Ford Roadsters, Touring Cars, Coupes or Sedans. Bring your car to Sloterbeck's Garage, Fayette City, and we will tell you how we can take your car [illegible]

In Society's Realm

The Zanania Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold an Ingathering at the church Monday evening in preparation for their bazaar to be held in Pfleghardt's window Thursday and Friday of next week. Everyone is urged to turn out for this meeting and bring their articles. There will be an entertainment and social hour following the business session.

The members of the Queen Esther Circle of the Methodist Episcopal church were entertained at the home of Miss Vida Goehring of Meadow avenue last night, with about thirty members present. The third chapter of the text book, "Adventures in Brotherhood" was thoroughly discussed by the leader, assisted by Misses Martha Watson and Ruth Gass. The business of the Circle was taken up by the president Miss Muriel Baker. Reports were given by the captains of [illegible] which evidenced great success and surprised all present. Plans were made for the regular yearly Christmas party, the gifts to be sent this year to the Deaconess Home at Pittsburgh, to be distributed among the children. Following the business session, a dainty luncheon was served by the hostesses, Misses Vida and Fay Goehring, Irene Chester and Myrtle Murray.

"SAINTED DEVIL" VALENTINO FILM AT THE COYLE

"A Sainted Devil," Rudolph Valentino's second Paramount starring picture since his return to the screen, will be the feature at the Coyle Theatre next week, commencing Monday, for a run of four days.

With an excellent supporting cast, a story of dash and color, and rich settings which depict the Argentine and life in the Buenos Aires, "A Sainted Devil" is said to surpass even "Monsieur Beaucaire," which was received by critics and public alike with great acclaim. In this picture, which Forrest Halsey adapted from Rex Beach's story, "Rope's End," Valentino portrays the role of Don Alonzo Castro, a spirited young South American who travels up and down the scale of love and who fights at the drop of the hat for the woman he loves.

Helen D'Algy has the role of Julietta, a dark-eyed, raven-haired beauty who captures all the space in Don Alonzo's heart despite the efforts of Carlotta, played by Nita Naldi, Dona Florencia, Dagmar Godowsky; and Carmelita, Louise Lagrange; who tries to win him away. George Seigman has the colorful role of El Tigre, the wild bandit of the pampas, and other members of the cast are Antonio D'Algy, Jean Del Val, Roger Lytton, Isabel West, Raphael Bongini, Frank Montgomery, William Betts, Edward Eikus, A. De Rosa, Ann Brody, Evelyn Axtell and Marie Diller.

In the picture Valentino is given an opportunity to do the Argentine Tango for which he has gained considerable reputation and he has fights galore with bandits and bad men of the Argentine.

The hacienda life of the Argentine is shown in this production as well as the smart life of Buenos Aaires the Paris of the Americas.

A Doll With 3 to 12 Heads

Changes Faces, Changes Clothes, Walks and Talks

Many Dolls In One— Heaps of Fun

A doll with one body—but three to a dozen heads! And a different costume for each head! Heads and costumes changed in a jiffy—each change making an entirely different character—that's the Famlee Doll.

Heads screw on and off—simply a turn at the neck; a two-year-old can do it.

Every little girl will love this many-sided playmate in every one of its three to twelve characters. Great fun to change from a Girl Doll to a Boy Doll—then to Little-Miss-From-Holland—then to Ching-Ching-Chinaman —and so on through many lovable and life-like characters —the number depending on the number of heads in the set you buy. Stimulates imagination, develops the creative instinct—an educational amusement that is always full of fascination.

A Wonderful Birthday or Christmas Gift

Each character walks and talks. 16 inches high. Non-breakable. Quality in every detail.

No matter how many dolls a little girl has, she has never had one like this—a doll that's always changing. Any little girl who gets one, either on her birthday or for Christmas, will be supremely happy—not merely for a day or two, but day after day and year after year.

Buick Continues its Leadership

For the seventh consecutive year Buick has first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows. This signal honor is awarded annually by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce to the manufacturer-member having the largest volume of business for the preceding twelve months.

In winning and in maintaining this enviable position year after year, Buick has demonstrated conclusively that the true value of any automobile is reflected in the consistency with which the public buys it.

Since the introduction of the 1925 Buick models, public patronage has increased to an even greater degree—

A tribute to the Buick engineering skill and manufacturing ability that have provided newer and better Buick cars without departing in any way from the fundamentals of power, economy and dependability for which all Buicks have been famous.

ACCUSED YOUTHS ARE DISCHARGED

John McFeeley and John Perry, of Venetia, the two young men who were arrested on a charge of stopping Gaskar Popp, of Triadelphia, W. Va., on the Monongahela pike, near Monongahela on October 30, and robbing him of $20, were discharged at a hearing yesterday afternoon before Alderman J. F. Carmichael.

Popp reported that on this date he was stopped by two men in a car, who demanded that he pay them $20 for some damages to their car, which he claimed that he had not done. At that time he alleged that he had never seen the two men. He returned to Monongahela, and the two young men were finally located. He then made information against them bfore Alderman Carmichael.

At the hearing yesterday afternoon it developed that Popp, driving a Chevrolet coupe, had forced them off the road, and they had a blowout as a result. They went to New Eagle where they secured Chief of Police Horner, and he returned with them but they were unable to locate Popp. After returning to Monongahela, they located him just outside of Monongahela, and demanded $10 in payment for the tire. It is alleged that he pulled out a roll of bills and gave them $20, not having any change. The next they knew he had made the charge of robbery against them.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 15.— J. V. Zottarelli, local attorney, was arrested today by United States secret service men in connection with what federal officers said was a nation-wide $5,000,000 counterfeit conspiracy.

The warrant on which he was arrested charged him with possession, publishing and passing counterfeit United States securities — $5 War Savings stamps dated 1919. He also is charged with selling 840 bogus stamps of $4,200 face value.

Detective Harper said the attorney was a member of a gang of counterfeiters which operated in New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, St. Louis, and other cities.

NATURAL WONDERS 80 MILES FROM THE CITY OF PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Nov. 15—Pennsylvanians go westward thousands of miles in search of natural wonders, unaware that 80 miles from Pittsburgh they can find a forest that contains trees that can only be equalled in the giant woods of the Pacific coast.

Cook Forest [illegible] at the junction of Clarion, Jefferson and Juniata counties is on the way to become one of the nature meccas of the United States, taking rank with Yellowstone Park and other outdoor wonders which draw tourists westward every year.

Eight thousand two hundred acres in extent, Cook Forest contains the largest virgin white pine in the east. This means that within the boundaries of Cook Forest is the largest amount of white pine found anywhere for the pine of the south and the Pacific coast are of different species.

There are many trees in this forest that are 400 years old rising to a height of 180 feet. A group of public spirited men have banded themselves together into a syndicate for the purpose of buying the forest and turning it over to the state as a memorial. The syndicate which is known as the Cook Forest Association has set $700,000 as its goal.

PUNCH SYSTEM FOR VIOLATORS

Motor vehicle drivers who are stopped by members of the Highway Motor Patrol for violations of the motor vehicle laws are to have their operators' license punched that in case of another violation the officer may know it is the second offense ,officials of the Department of Highways announced. Under the system the duplicate cards in the department office will be punched the same as the original, to make a complete check, the officials said.

The character mark on the punch of commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the patrol is a diamond while the character used by privates is a spade.

Punch marks in the various positions indicate the driver was warned as to violations of the various infractions of the laws.

In announcing the system the bulletin to members of the patrol said: "When a motorist has been warned as to some violation of our motor law and his operator's card has been marked accordingly, it is felt that a subsequent violation of the same nature noted by any patrolman would warrant prosecution since the operator's card will bear a punch mark indicating that the motorist has been warned previously of the infraction of our law. In each instance the card shall be punched as set forth."

The bulletin also said that patrolmen when stopping a car and observing a punch mark indicating a previous warning for the same violation has two alternatives; either to punch the card again and report to the central office else notify the motorist to appear before an alderman or justice of the peace.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS THE GREAT BAZAAR

The Dugout held another record breaking crowd last night at the Bazaar being staged there this week under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 22. The second card party of the week was [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. Russell Test, Mrs. Rose Gillette, Mrs. E. C. Robertson, Mrs. Walter Urben, Pete Lee, John Jenkins and Miss Irwin.

The musical program was very pleasing. Mrs. A. G. Lewis, accompanied on the piano by Miss Alice Peach, sang several selections very beautifully. Charles Pollock sang two numbers in his usual pleasing manner. Miss Irene Pardiny played his accompaniment. Another feature of the program was the violin solos played by Guy Michener, the piano accompaniments being played by his sister, Miss Audrey Michener.

"Madame Ireno," the palmist, was kept very busy with anxious folk in line waiting their turn to hear their future. A great number were turned away and thus the madame will be compelled to return this evening to take care of her patrons. Another popular attraction of the evening was the coffee and sandwich booth.

The great attraction for today will be the bake sale in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Pollock. This promises to draw a large crowd.

Another feature about last night's activities was the presence of a large number of members of the Monongahela Legion Auxiliary.

Last Night's Banquet At the Washington Avenue Presbyterian Church Is Attended By Fathers and Sons to Number of 175

S. D. R. HILL, TOASTMASTER

Speakers, Rev. Frank S. Montgomery, Pastor of the Church, Prof. J. L. Roberts, Robert Ingland, And the Rev. Dr. W. P. McConkey of Washington

Last night's banquet at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church attested that, in Charleroi and this community, at least, the majesty of the "commonwealth" rests with the Fathers and the Sons. To the number of 175, they congregated in the spacious dining room of the church edifice in Fifth street and Washington avenue, and while the affair was ostensibly a banquet, provided as only the competent ladies of this church society can, the function was in reality, a "feast of reason and flow of soul;" where Father and Son exchanged confidences and pleasantries; where Father lived anew the halcyon days when he too enjoyed a life in the spirit and enthusiasm of the juvenile.

Postmaster S. D. R. Hill fulfilled with his usual acumen, the duties incumbent of toastmaster, and by his witticisms in story, enlivened and made doubly interesting an occasion that was fraught with all the amenities of former functions of this character.

After the concourse sang "America," invocation was pronounced by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Frank S. Montgomery. This was followed by "Toast by a Father," given by Prof. J. L. Roberts. Frank Joseph then rendered a solo, and responded to an encore. This in turn was followed by special music, in charge of William Mollenauer, with Johnny Jenkins at the piano. Robert Ingland then gave the "Toast by a Son." Toastmaster Hill introduced the Rev. Montgomery, who said among other things that he felt honored at the splendid representation of fathers and sons present, and was certain that the banquet, a yearly affair, would be prolific of the good hoped for. After another song, Toastmaster Hill introduced the Rev. Dr. W. P. McConkey, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Washington, who gave an inspiring address, in which he told of the relations which should exist between Father and Son; of the respect and love which each should feel for the other; the importance of their becoming acquainted, to strengthen the filial ties which is incumb-

Drivers Of Cars Killing Folk Freed

Inquests into two accidents in which persons struck by automobiles succumbed to their injuries, were conducted in Washington yesterday by Coroner William Greenlee, the driver in each case being freed of blame.

One was a rehearsing in connection with the death of Donald Edgar Lobinger, aged four, of Pancake, who was killed when hit by an automobile driven by Miss Ruth Myers. The case was reopened by request of the parents of the child, account of the conflicting testimony. The case was gone into in considerable detail, and after hearing the version of the various witnesses, Miss Myers was again exonerated.

The other inquest was that of the death of Frank S. McWreath, Jr., two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan E. McWreath, who was killed when run over by a machine driven by Dr. J. R. Maxwell, who had been called to the McWreath home to attend to the mother of Mr. McWreath, who had been ill. It was shown that the mishap was purely accidental.

Want To Curtail "Juice" In Coal Mining

Curtailment of the use of electricity as a "needless and dangerous" hazard of coal mining will be asked from the next legislature ,as the result of a conference held in Harrisburg on Wednesday of the executive boards of the five Pennsylvania districts of the United Mine Workers of America.

A committee of 15 three from each district, was agreed upon to draft suitable legislation for the miners and submit the entire program at a general conference when the legislature convenes in January.

About 50 representatives of Districts 1, 2, 5, 7 and 9 of the mine workers' union were in Harrisburg to attend a general meeting of labor officials to consider a legislative program and such special legislation as may be necessary at this time. Thomas Kennedy, president of District No. 7, declared the electrical hazard the most important subject at this time to be dealt with in remedial legislation next session. "The greater use of electricity in place of steam has made it necessary to call a halt somewhere. Auxiliary systems are needed in case the power fails. We should not wait for some great calamity before getting after this danger and we feel that a new law must be drafter to prevent further development of the hazard," Kennedy declared.

LOOKING FOR MISSING BOYS

Charleroi police are looking for Charels Peters, 922 Shady avenue, aged 17 years, and John Harvey Brown, also aged about 17 years, who resides near Canonsburg, who, it is alleged, ran away from Morganza.

The Brown lad is colored. Charles Peters is wellknown here, and it is said, has not conducted himself seemingly, hence his being taken to Morganza.

Chief of Police James A. Murphy said this morning that he and his officers made diligent search for the boys yesterday, but their efforts were barren of results. It is not known whether they came to Charleroi, or were headed in this direction.

Tag Day Benefit Russian Orthodox St. John the Baptist Church

On Saturday, Nov. 15, the Russian Orthodox Church will hold a Tag day in Charleroi and the girls and women of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary Society will solicit funds.

We appeal to the members of the community to give what they can to aid the church. No doubt the town remembers our misfortune, in losing our former church, which was destroyed by fire the latter part of December 1923.

Jury Taking Its Time Reaching Verdict In Johnson Case

The jury impanelled to try Herman Johnson, colored, of Monessen, for the murder of Lela Warfield, also colored, at a baseball game near Donora last June, had not agreed on a verdict at a late hour last night. The case went to the body at 3:30 in the afternoon. The commonwealth asked for a first degree verdict.

Johnson's defense was that the shooting of the woman was accidental. The shooting occurred after the close of a baseball game at Americo park, between the Donora and the Monongahela teams. Johnson's home is in Monessen, and he had gone to the game with Arthur Neil, a nephew of the woman he presumably shot.

At the time of the shooting, the Mail was informed that Johnson shot the Warfield woman, a young lady, on the outside of the ball park; that Miss Warfield was in the company of other colored women; that he asked Miss Warfield to get into an automobile that he was driving for a ride, and on her refusal, shot her. However, according to the Observer, none of this testimony was adduced at the trial.

Johnson's allegation is that during a scuffle with George Densley, colored, who had accompanied Miss Warfield to the game, the gun was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking Miss Warfield, inflicting the wound, from which she is said to have died on July 4. Johnson avers he had no ill will toward Miss Warfield that he had kept company with her for a year, that he did not know she was going to the game that day, had not seen or talked to her that day until he met her after the game, with Densley.

He testified that after leaving the baseball park and when just outside he met Miss Warfield and Densley and spoke to her, but not to Densley, as Densley and he had not been good friends for some time. Densley, he said, did not speak to him. He said he asked Miss Warfield if he could have a few words with her and to that question, he said Densley replied that if he wanted to talk to any one to talk to him, Densley. More words passed and Miss Warfield, he said, then approached him, the defendant, and they started walking along the car line together. It was then, he said, Densley came up behind him, grasped his arms, pinioned them to his body, and they got into a scuffle. Densley changed his hold and in doing so grabbed the butt of a revolver that had been taken out of Johnson's pocket. It was during this scuffle the gun went off and Miss Warfield was shot.

Johnson denied he had threatened Miss Warfield ,or had said he was going to "send her to h——."
